By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says 9,000 Soviet troops and technical experts have left Cuba since November—about 4,000 of them within the past six weeks.

Expressing hope of further withdrawals, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that a rough calculation indicates about 12,000 to 13,000 Soviet citizens remain in Cuba.

Kennedy also reiterated a previously expressed fear that hit and run raids against Cuban ports and Soviet shipping by anti-Castro exiles might prompt a dangerous cycle of mounting blows and counterblows, thus adding heat to the cold war.

Repeating a promise that the United States would do everything possible to prevent such raids from American soil, Kennedy suggested would-be raiders could do more for their Communist-dominated homeland by joining 400 to 500 survivors of the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion who have enlisted in the U.S. Army.

In the domestic area, the President obviously was primed for a question about former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's recent suggestion that Kennedy's record $98.9-billion budget could be cut by about $13 billion. Eisenhower was particularly critical of the costly space program.

Noting that Eisenhower "referred us to Maurice Stans, his budget director, for guidance," Kennedy jibed that during Stans' tenure the country had its largest peacetime deficit, its largest loss of gold, its highest peacetime unemployment plus two recessions.

Farm Prices About Same

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The mid-March index of prices received by Arkansas farmers at 269 per cent of the 1910-14 average was the same as a month earlier but two per cent above mid-March 1962, the Crop Reporting Service said today.

The index for livestock and livestock products at 261 was down two per cent from a month earlier. The all-crops index at 273 per cent was up nearly one per cent from mid-February.

Wants Police Fact Finding Commission

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—The Forrest City Chamber of Commerce called today for appointment of a fact-finding commission to hammer out a solution to the State Police problem.

The chamber said in a resolution that effectiveness of the State Police was being jeopardized by an economy curtailment in services.

The resolution, adopted Wednesday, was released to news media today.

It asked Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Col. Herman Lindsey, State Police director, to end the curtailment immediately and set up a nine-member fact-finding group.

It proposed that four members be named by Faubus, four by the Legislative Council and one by the first eight appointees.

Copies were forwarded to Faubus and Pulaski County Rep. Joel Y. Ledbetter, chairman of the council.

The chamber suggested that the study commission be given three weeks to do its job and it urged the governor to follow the commission's recommendations.

The curtailment, started March 15, leaked to news media two weeks ago. Faubus and Lindsey said the State Police Department had run out of funds but intended to live within its budget anyway.

Lindsey said Wednesday that the cut in services wasn't saving enough money and some personnel might have to be dismissed.

Craighead County Rep. Norman Wimpy asked Monday for an audit of State Police accounts to determine the agency's exact financial condition when the curtailment was ordered.

Faubus has said he feels the only solution is a tax increase—in the form of boosting the driver's license fee from $2 to $3 a year — is the only solution.

A bill to raise the fee, providing an estimated $800,000 a year for the State Police, failed in the 1963 Legislature.

Raps Arkansas Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A National Safety Council official has termed the 1963 session of the Arkansas General Assembly unfortunate, so far as traffic safety and accident prevention is concerned.

Philip Streit of Springfield, Mo., regional director for the NSC, said while in Little Rock Wednesday for a meeting of the United Community Funds and Councils of America, Inc., the number of traffic fatalities in January was down one per cent in the nation, but the Arkansas rate rose nine per cent.

Streit said Arkansas needed a proper driver licensing program, a central reporting agency for traffic accidents and violations and appropriation of funds for the Police Training Academy, none of which were met by the legislature.

Recovering From Attack

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Cleveland County Rep. Raymond Mays is recovering in a Little Rock hospital from a slight heart attack he suffered at his home in Risson Sunday.

Mays said his doctor assured him there was no permanent heart damage and that a short rest will put him back on his feet.

Final Rites

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Funeral services were set today at Camden, Ark. for Mrs. Ida Gertrude Parker, 86, mother of Fort Worth Star-Telegram editorial writer John N. Parker. Mrs. Parker died Wednesday at her son's home. She was the wife of the late John Parker Sr., former mayor and U.S. marshal at Fort Smith, Ark. Mrs. Parker was born in Holly Springs, Ark. and had lived in Camden until three years ago. Other survivors include a son, Ray P. Parker of Little Rock, three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Annual Kiwanis Club Minstrel Opens Tonight

Hope Kiwanis club presents its 20th annual minstrel show at 8 p. m. Thursday and Friday in the high school auditorium.

This year's production has a cast of 45, and the show is timed at one hour and 45 minutes. Approximately 200 persons turned out for a preview Tuesday night, all funds going to the Blevins senior class.

During the past 20 years more than $25,000 has been spent by the Kiwanis club on boys' and girls' entertainment and recreational programs in Hope. High School Key Club was organized on February 1, 1947. With limited membership of 30 young men a year, the Key Club, a school service organization, has played a vital part in contributing to the training and growth of more than 425 Hope High school students.

Tickets for the show may be obtained from any Kiwanian or at the high school. The program:

The End Men are Eddie 'Axle Grease' Whitman; Paul 'B Ball' O'Neal; Al 'Moon Pie' Graves; Harry 'Mishap' Hawthorne; Mitchell 'R. C.' LaGrone; Guy 'Perpetual' Grigg and James 'Asbestos' Howell.

As in the past Mrs. Evva Reynerson is the accompanist. Specialty numbers will be presented by Mrs. Maxine White; Guy Grigg; Miss Delaine Bonds of Blevins; Mrs. Helen Ratliff; Mrs. Billie Russell; and a medley by high school girls including:

Gayle Medders, Myrle Cox, Kathy Thrash, John Hill, Mary Ann Bader, Karen Cobb, Poleda Glanton with Dora Ann King at the piano.

Group Would Tighten Drug Controls

By JOHN BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP)—An advisory group told President Kennedy today that seven steps should be taken to tighten controls on drugs that numb, knock out, addict, depress, hypnotize, pep up, calm down or hallucinate.

The recommendations came in an interim report of his special advisory commission on narcotics and drug abuse. The commission suggested:

—Start a master research effort on all aspects of narcotic and drug abuse.

—Set up a special—high mobile—Justice Department unit of lawyers and investigators for "a massive attack on the big-time smugglers and sellers."

—Ask Congress for stiffer laws on manufacture, sale and distribution of habit-forming and stimulant drugs subject to abuse.

—Form a joint U.S.-Mexico commission to consult and act jointly against smuggling of narcotics, marijuana and dangerous drugs between the two countries.

The President received the interim report with thanks and said "It begins to open the door to understanding about users of narcotics and abusers of the law and suggests forcefully the dangers which confront the American people in this difficult area."

He said he looked forward with great interest to the final report expected next Nov. 1.

The seven-member commission is headed by E. Barrett Prettyman, a former chief judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia.

Gunman Escapes With $2,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A young man questioned the assistant manager of Cranks Drug Stores at the Park Plaza Shopping Center here about merchandise, pulled a gun from beneath a sweater, forced the manager into the office, made him put more than $2,000 in a sack, then fled Wednesday night.

Bill Goodman, 24, the assistant manager, said the holdup occurred 35 minutes before the store's 10 p. m. closing hour, when there were only a few customers being served.

Goodman said the youth forced him to open the safe and stuff the money in a paper bag. He then made him walk outside to the mall and as they neared the bottom of a set of stairs, broke into a run. Goodman was not harmed.

Goodman described the youth as about six feet tall and thin.

He said he looked forward with great interest to the final report expected next Nov. 1.

Patmos School Science Fair Is Friday

Patmos will play host to the elementary science fair on April 5. Clyde Mosler, chairman, has asked that all exhibits be completed by one o'clock. Judging will be done between one and two o'clock.

While the judges are performing their duties, a science program will be underway in the Patmos auditorium. This program will consist of special numbers rendered by the elementary schools that are entering the science exhibits.

Spring Hill will have a short program on "Reason for Every Season" and Guernsey will have a short program on "Sound Made from Vibration."

At this time, the other elementary schools, Washington, Patmos, Blevins, and Saratoga, have not completed their plans for their part in the program.

The winners will be selected on the basis of scientific points, creative ability, thoroughness and neatness, clarity and dramatic value and technical skill. There will be first, second and third place winners in earth science, electronics, health, plants, and animals.

Woman Killed
SCOTT, Ark. (AP)—Georgia Mae Henson, 32, of North Little Rock died in a head-on collision on State Highway 130 here Wednesday. State Trooper Bill Bogle said her car collided with one driven by Glen Sloan, 34, of England. Sloan was taken to a Little Rock hospital in serious condition.

Funeral services for Gilbert Barwick, 80, who died Tuesday in a local hospital, were to be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at Oakcrest Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Carlton Roberts and the Rev. B. J. Whitliffe. Burial by Oakcrest was to be in Memory Gardens.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Della Barwick; four sons; G. E. and S. Z. Barwick of Hope; Ernest and C. W. Barwick of Denver; five daughters, Mrs. Zema Mobbs, Mrs. Pansy Steward, Mrs. Carmie White, Mrs. Ruth Cooper, all of Little Rock and Mrs. Bernice Mason of Denver.

Dorothy Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wade, Blevins, R. 1, is back home and doing fine after undergoing surgery at Texarkana.

Patmos is planning a big singing convention on April 20 and 21, according to Mrs. Ruby Hunt who also reports the Tri-State Singing Convention will be held in Municipal Auditorium, Shreveport on April 6-7.

Janice Meloy, Emmet High School, has been nominated for the annual Achievement Awards program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Finalists will be announced at NCTE convention Thanksgiving.

The Pike County Singing Convention meets at the Central Christian Church of Delight Saturday night, April 6 and Sunday, April 7.

U.S. Flags in Rags for Germany

NEW YORK (AP)—An investigation is under way concerning a report that a bundle of rags consigned for shipment to Germany for use as shoeshine cloths contained many U.S. flags.

Joseph P. Kelly, collector of customs, ordered the probe. The report came Wednesday from Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., who said in a statement that the bundle was shipped by the Shenandoah Rag Co. of Shenandoah, Pa. The congressman said he was called in Washington by a longshoreman who told him the flags were found when the bundle had been opened inadvertently on a pier.

Murphy reported the bundle had been loaded aboard the American Pilot, a vessel of the United States Lines. A spokesman for the line said the American Pilot sailed for Germany March 31.

The proper method of disposing of American flags is by burning.

Paragould School Loses Accreditation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Paragould High School had sufficient notice that it would lose its accreditation for violation of rules of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, a state Education official said Wednesday.

Asst. Education Commissioner Ed McCuiston said the Paragould School Board was notified a week after a Dec. 4 meeting of the state accrediting committee that it probably would lose accreditation.

McCuiston, who also is state NCA chairman, said he wanted to clear the air because Francis Bland, president of the Paragould board, was quoted last week as saying the school was dropped from the accredited list without warning.

Two major regulations were violated by the Paragould school, McCuiston said, one covering qualifications of principals and another the relationship between the board and the superintendent.

Doy Pannell was unacceptable as a principal for four reasons, McCuiston said: He lacked a master's degree, a certificate as an administrator, the required 20 college credits in school administration, and he did not devote his full time to administration.

McCuiston said the regulation covering relationship of the board and superintendent requires that the administrative head of a school system attend all meetings of the board, "except at times when consideration may be given to his own appointment and salary."

Pannell, who coached the Paragould Bulldogs to the state Class AA-AAA basketball championship last month, was absent from a meeting at which the board acted on the hiring of school personnel, McCuiston said. He read a letter from Paragould Superintendent Ralph Hatzlip dated Nov. 15, 1962, saying Pannell was absent from an April 25, 1962 meeting.

The NCA began its investigation of the Paragould school, McCuiston said, after a resident of the city sent an anonymous letter to NCA offices in Chicago early in 1962, telling about Pannell's double duties and asking if this agreed with regulations.

that had been threatening an attack on Buenos Aires to steer for Puerto Belgrano. Berrellez quoted a navy rebel spokesman as saying that the aircraft carrier Izabela was in the vicinity of the base.

The Argentine news agency Telpress reported that the rebel Commandante Espora air base at Bahia Blanca was being abandoned by the rebels. The agency quoted a base spokesman as saying: "It's all over."

The base at Mar del Plata was the navy's second most important rebellion stronghold. It is 230 miles southeast of this capital.

An eyewitness told The Associated Press by telephone that the loyalist takeover of Mar del Plata was uneventful and "not a shot was fired." Navy units had evacuated the base.

A loyalist communiqué earlier reported that most of Argentina was under government control.

The communiqué conceded that the rebels had gained the support of three small army units but the government radio announced one of these, a battalion of engineers in the Andean resort of Bariloche, had surrendered.

The communiqué said 24 navy planes were destroyed and nine others taken in the capture Wednesday of the naval air station at Punta Indio.

Among the planes destroyed were a number of Panther jets bought from the United States to bolster the naval air force, the communiqué said.

The communiqué also claimed full control of Cordoba, where army paratroopers had staged a spirited rally to the rebel cause. The loyalists said they were put down by other army forces.

Chiefs of the army and air force, backing the buffeted regime of President Jose Maria Guido, held a postmidnight conference after Defense Minister Juan Manuel Astigueta conditions under which the navy would withdraw from the revolt, how in its third day.

The death toll was placed unofficially at 26, including an armed civilian killed by an army patrol in the northern province of Jujuy. The army has warned repeatedly that any civilians caught with weapons, looting or staging

Mixed-up Actress Returns to U. S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Marie McDonald is home from Australia with the explanation that her disappearance from a Sydney psychiatric hospital was just a comedy of errors.

Miss McDonald, 39, who canceled a $3,000-per-week night club engagement in Sydney, said she was glad to be back in the United States, "where doctors don't prescribe psychiatric treatment for a bleeding ulcer."

Shortly before her departure from Sydney Wednesday, Miss McDonald disappeared for 40 hours leaving the hospital by way of a window.

At International Airport on her arrival here, the actress said she wasn't entirely certain how she got into the hospital but assumed friends took her there when her ulcerous condition became acute.

"I suddenly just found myself there," she said. "I stayed less than two hours. When they came around passing out heavy sedation I did what any red-blooded American would do. I took off. I wasn't going to let them turn me into a walking zombie like the rest of the people there."

Be sure to shop your favorite shops and weather or not, you'll get that "wonderful springtime feeling."

demonstrations would be shot.

Shots rang out in Buenos Aires when loyalist leaders emerged from Government House after discussing the rebel truce terms, but no casualties were reported. A witness said the shots came from two speeding cars.

Each side claimed victory, but the situation was confused by conflicting reports.

Guido's government announced Wednesday that the rebels were surrendering after being pushed back in heavy fighting in the South.

The rebels promptly said Vazquez "is not coming to surrender. He will only negotiate a truce."

But AP Correspondent Robert Berrellez reported from the big rebel-held naval base at Puerto Belgrano, 350 miles south of Buenos Aires, that officers and enlisted men appeared pessimistic.

The rebels said in a broadcast earlier that they would set up a new national regime in the port city of Bahia Blanca, adjoining Puerto Belgrano. But Capt. Kurt Dietrich, press chief at the base, told Berrellez no such government had been set up in the area.

The navy launched the revolt to oust Guido and cancel elections scheduled June 23 for a new president and Congress. The navy fears that followers of ex-Dictator Juan D. Peron—about a third of Argentina's voters—will gain control of the government.

"That is not a record that we plan to duplicate if we can help it," said Kennedy.

As for the space program, Kennedy suggested that Eisenhower long has opposed an effective effort to put the United States ahead of the Soviet Union in space. "It is a matter on which we disagree," he said.

At the start of the session, Kennedy was asked about the abruptly abandoned Pentagon program to ask key officials to take lie detector tests, if necessary, to determine who "leaked" a memorandum critical of the Senate's investigation of the TFX fighter plane contract.

"I think it was a mistake to suggest a polygraph," Kennedy replied. "I don't think we need concern ourselves in the future about it."

The question of a possible power struggle within the Kremlin also came up. Kennedy expressed the view that Soviet Premier Khrushchev "has his good months and bad months like we all do." But he said recurrent hints of disagreements in the Soviet hierarchy have not affected U.S. policy decisions.

The President also talked about his own ups and downs with Congress. He predicted passage of major legislation, including a tax cut, in the coming months. But he said other administration proposals will be defeated and this, in turn, will prompt discussion of "presidential leadership." A broad grin indicated he is reconciled to this eventuality.

Discussing the continued presence of Soviet troops in Cuba, Kennedy said all figures are bound to be generalized "because it is impossible to take a detailed head count."

He said the government will watch the situation closely to see "whether there are going to be further withdrawals which, of course, we wish for."

Kennedy conceded, on the subject of quickie raids against Cuba, that the long Florida coastline does afford opportunities for the launching of refugee attacks from U.S. soil.

"We have attempted to discourage it for a number of reasons," he said.

For one thing, he commented, "It does not seem to us that this represents any real blow against Castro." On the contrary, he said it could offer "additional incentives for the Soviet Union to maintain their personnel in Cuba" and even to "send additional units to protect their merchant ships."

The whole matter could become an issue of war and peace, he said, if one attack led to a counter-blow which eventually might embroil American vessels.

On other topics, Kennedy said it "seems evident to me" that Negroes in Greenwood, Miss., have been denied their constitutional voting rights. He expressed hope for "justice" as a result of two pending court suits.

Said the establishment of a military dictatorship in Guatemala and revolutionary attempts in Argentina are symptoms of the political and economic instability which the Alliance for Progress seeks to eliminate.

Declared the United States has no consistent policy regarding diplomatic recognition of governments imposed by force. In the case of Guatemala, he said, the administration will want to judge the prospects for free elections there, as well as assess the reaction of Guatemala's Central American neighbors.

Said he doesn't see why the possible election of a Labor party government in Britain should alter Anglo-American relations, which he said are based on "history and common interests."

Made evident an American desire for restoration of democratic government in South Korea, while saying the matter must be settled by the Koreans themselves.

Rejected a Republican-sponsored suggestion for a commission to study federal spending. Kennedy said he is satisfied with the work of the Budget Bureau and the congressional appropriations commit-

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Don Crews of Hamburg, Chuck Horn of Russellville, Don Watson of Osceola and Don Horton of Newport were named Wednesday to assist Coach Buddy Harding of Clarendon, who will head the East football squad in the Arkansas High School All-Star game in August.

Important Thing Is Education

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Education is more important than integration to Jaquelyne Fay Evans, an A-plus student and one of six Negroes attending Hall High School with 1,200 whites here.

But the "extras"—such as making the National Honor Society and being the first Negro to be inducted into the scholastic achievement group at Hall are fine with her.

Because of her interest in education, she was most impressed with making the National Honor Society.

"I was afraid they wouldn't take a Negro," she said in an interview. "But they did!"

Always a bright student, good grades have come easily to her.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Evans, said they were interested principally in a better educational opportunity for Jaquelyne when they asked that she be admitted to an integrated school.

"She wasn't being challenged at the colored school," Mrs. Evans said. "She was bored by the lack of competition."

At Hall, where she will be graduated this year at age 16, she found plenty of scholastic competition, and met it.

Working toward her goal of becoming a writer, Jaquelyne is taking five subjects instead of the usual four—mathematics, English, French, speech and chemistry.

Jaquelyne is one of 70 Negro students who attend integrated schools in Little Rock.

The schools were desegregated in 1957 after federal troops were brought in to keep down violence. They were closed during the 1958-59 term, but reopened under a token integration plan in August 1959.

Jaquelyne, whose parents live in a modest frame home in a Negro neighborhood eight miles from Hall, says she has not met a great deal of resentment from white students.

"A few have shown they don't like my being there," she said. "But most of the students are friendly and I don't feel snubbed."

She says she is more interested in books than boys and doesn't have many girl friends.

"I don't think you can have any close friends. I enjoy socializing in small groups, but I don't care

Cleveland May Get Press Rolling

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—With the last holdout union settled, ratification of a contract agreement tonight by members of the printers union apparently would pave the way to getting Cleveland's strikebound newspapers on the streets by Monday.

The more than one million residents of the Greater Cleveland area have been without their regular daily papers for 126 days in the longest strike ever to hit a city of this size. The New York newspaper strike lasted 114 days.

The Plain Dealer and the Cleveland Press News have been idled since Nov. 29.

Last union to reach agreement was the machinists local, which came to terms early today after a five-hour night bargaining session. James Infelice, business agent, said the members will vote on the agreement Friday at 11 a.m. He declined to disclose terms, although it was known the union previously had agreed to wage increases of $10 a week over two years.

Negotiations over fringe benefits had delayed final agreement.

The Teamsters Union, which started the strike, gave final ratification to its new contract Wednesday night. The contract was to be signed today in the offices of Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who helped mediate that agreement as well as key pacts with the Newspaper Guild, which struck Nov. 30, and the printers union, which struck Jan. 28.

The agreement reportedly provides $13.95 a week in wage increase and fringe benefits over a 26-month period. Virtually all the other unions have settled on or near a pattern of $10 weekly increases in 24-month contracts.

The printers' wage scale under the old contract was $133.50 a week.

A&M Convention

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) — Some 1,600 high school students from the Monticello area are expected to convene on the Arkansas A&M college campus today and Friday for two conventions. The Southeast Arkansas Junior and Senior High School Vocal Festival is being held today and at the Southeast Arkansas District Future Farmers of America judging contest Friday.

Seeks Damages

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arnold Lee King of Van Buren has asked the State Claims Commission for $400 damages for three hunting dogs he claims were caught in wolf traps set by a Game and Fish Commission trapper last August. The claim came at the opening by the Commission Wednesday of two days of hearings.

for crowds," she said. Her main interest, outside of school, is reading.

The Evans' — he is a nurse's assistant at a Veterans Administration Hospital and she a housewife — have one other child, Harold James, 11, now a fifth grade student at a Negro school near their home.

They said they plan to seek an integrated education for him.

Only the seventh through 12th grades are now integrated in Little Rock.

Held out little hope of settling up special machinery to prevent newspaper strikes like the one just settled in New York inasmuch as neither management nor labor wants compulsory arbitration.

THE CLASSIC LOOK will be continued

Continental's classic look has remained virtually unchanged year after year. Except for significant refinements in performance and comfort, we refuse to tamper with this car. It is made in just two models: the 4-door sedan and America's only 4-door convertible. It is, quite simply, the world's finest automobile.

Honored on Birthday

Brad Rogers was entertained with a lawn party on his 6th birthday Tuesday by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Pod Rogers. Recordings and pictures were made of the group. After Brad opened his gifts games were played and refreshments were served. Decorations, refreshments and favors all carried out the Easter theme. Guests present were: Eddie & Frankie Ingersoll, Allen and Steve Clark, David Bramlett, Clay O'Steen, Keith Russell, Carolyn Butler, Jonathan Royston, Debbie Starkey, Tony Yocom, Shan Herndon, Karen Dee Gray, John Caldwell, Gwen Phillips, Tommy Johnson, Mike Butler, Tony Pettit, Jill Herring, Johnny Duckett, Terry McCorkle, and Doug Rogers. Assisting with the party were Mr. C. M. Rogers, Mrs. Ross Gleghorn, Mrs. Olin Purcell and Sue Duckett.

Melrose HD Club

Mrs. Virgie Robertson entertained the Melrose Home Demonstration Club on Tuesday, April 2. The president, Mrs. A. C. Kirby, called the meeting to order. For the Eye Opener Mrs. T. L. Smith told how to make gravy that is always smooth.

All joined in singing "I've Been Working on the Railroad." The hostess read 1 John 4:16-21 for the devotion. This was followed with a poem read by Mrs. C. F. Wiggins, vice-president. The lesson, "How Tired You Can Get And Recover," was brought by Mrs. Robertson.

Roll call was answered with "A good deed I'll never forget." A club project was proposed and discussed, and a committee was appointed to investigate it further. A flower sale was held among the members. The history of Arkansas was explained, in part, by Mrs. Kirby.

Mrs. O. A. McKnight won the Surprise Package. Dessert, coffee, and cold drinks were served to 10 members and two guests. Mrs. Bettie Duncan and little Miss Kay Duncan.

Bridge Club Meets

There were two tables of players assembled at the home of Mrs. George Frazier Tuesday when she entertained her bridge club. They included one guest, Mrs. Lynn Harris. Spirea and irises were used as decorations.

Mrs. Wayne Russell won the prizes for high score and game prize. Mrs. Floyd Leverett was second high. Pie, coffee, and cold drinks were served.

Coming and Going

Mrs. Clyde Osborn has returned from Shreveport after spending last week with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hazzard, Lyda Sue and Jay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stark and two daughters, Walnut Ridge, visited in the home Mrs. McRae

DOROTHY DIX

HUSBAND HAS A YEN FOR NUDIST CAMP

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: I thought I was a happy housewife until the doctor advised my husband to find an outside activity which would lessen the tension of an important and confining job. All he talks about now is joining a nudist camp, claiming there is nothing like fresh air and sunshine on the body for complete relaxation.

This yen for nudism is foreign to his background; he studied to be a minister and only abandoned the calling because of financial reasons. I, myself, haven't a bad figure but it makes me cringe to think of running around without a stitch of clothing on.

As it is, being shy, I have to muster up courage to undress in my husband's presence. To ap-

Cox over the weekend.

Mark Shields is spending a few days in Shreveport with his grand parents Mr. and Mrs. Pete Shields.

Scotty and Kathy Goddard of Gurdon are here visiting their grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Goddard.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Pearson of McComb, Ill., are visiting his uncle, Willis Cobb and Mrs. Cobb while en route to Hobbs, N.M.

Births

The Rev. and Mrs. Keith Goddard of Gurdon are the parents of a 10 lb. daughter, born March 31. She has been named Victoria Eileen. Paternal grandparents are Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Goddard of Hope.

pear in a nudist camp would terrify me. He insists that I join one in our area. He can't join without me. That is a rule of the camp. If I refuse there will be no living with him. Once he gets an idea, it becomes an obsession until accomplished.

Personally, I feel it would be very wrong for us to become nudists, especially since my husband did study for the ministry. His argument is that Adam and Eve walked around with nothing on but fig leaves. He contends, simply being old-fashioned? — Right-or-Wrong.

Dear Right: Your husband is right; so are you. It's all in the point of view. He has advanced ideas. You were brought up to think complete exposure of the human body immodest. If he would practice what he learned in the theological seminary he would appreciate your dilemma and not carp because you don't think as he does.

Nudism isn't in accord with the mores of our civilization and therefore we either jeer or disapprove. But don't get the idea that nudists are immoral. The Greeks were nudists, yet theirs remains one of the great civilizations of the world. If your husband craves the feel of sun and air on his skin, why not call in a carpenter to build a protected sun area for him at home on the roof or an open porch or in the garden?

Dear Helen: My grandmother and Dad don't get along. Now that mother is expecting a baby, Grandmother will be here telling us all what to do, when to do it, and why. How can I politely ask her to please mind her own business? She's kind - hearted but so bossy! — G.

Dear G.: You might say to your grandmother in all affection that as possible for your mother; so, to keep peace in the family, would she please consider herself a welcome guest, eager to adapt herself to your family's way of life, rather than trying to make it over into her own. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Considerate Approach."

Dear Helen: A few years ago I was kissed by a boy I liked very much. This was a new experience and gave me much pleasure. Wishing to share my happiness with someone I told an elderly friend of the family. She thought it shameful and practically consigned me to purgatory.

Now, whenever I am with a boy I like and trust, something inside me makes me shrink from him. As a consequence, I am stiff, formal and unapproachable. Boys date me once and that's all. Will I ever be able to change? — Deeply Concerned 15-year-old Girl

Dear Deeply Concerned: There's nothing wrong in a kiss. The prudish elderly friend was probably an old maid and will remain one. Believe instead in the books recommended in my leaflet, "Sex Education for Teenagers." Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help

Forest Fire Under Control

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — Forest rangers in the Springdale area said today the rash of forest fires that destroyed nearly 1,500 acres of hill timberland Tuesday night had been brought under control.

The foresters said a cold front moving through the state sprinkled about .15 of an inch of rain on the area, helping the situation a little, but that dry air moving in behind the cold front probably would bring the forests back to tinder condition shortly.

The largest fire Tuesday night was in the Brentwood area about eight miles northeast of Rogers. The fire, whipped by winds of up to 30 miles an hour, destroyed more than 700 acres.

Another fire near Durwood, about 15 miles south of Fayetteville, burned some 600 acres. Smaller fires were reported in the Garfield, Harris and Summers area in Washington and Benton counties.

No injuries nor property damage was reported in any of the fires.

Can Use Hangar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Little Rock Civil Defense officials will be granted use of the National Guard hangar at Adams field, ending the city's problem of transporting CD supplies from Little Rock Air Force Base to shelters.

you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Director William Price announced the move this week. The Guard unit has moved to the air base.

Many Feel Market Now Acting Funny
By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Many a follower of the stock market these days is labeling it as acting funny. And many a broker and professional is wondering aloud where the once loyal followers are.

The public's reluctance to do much trading has worried Wall Streeters almost as much as what today's report by the Securities and Exchange Commission on stock trading might do to them and their ways of doing business.

Some in the street trace both the SEC inquiry and the public's hesitancy to the same string of events—exchange scandals a year ago, flight to Brazil of some stock operators, and finally the sharp break in stock prices in May and June.

The fright of the small investor was understandable. But in recent months exchange rules have been tightened, the SEC probe has given many operators pause, and stock prices themselves have staged an impressive comeback.

Most close observers of the market say the rebound involved the big traders rather than the small investors. Judging by odd-lot transactions—the buying and selling of stocks in less than 100-share blocks—the public has been selling more than it has been buying.

Institutional buyers and professional traders have been in evidence whenever the market takes an upward spurt. There are signs that the small investor has taken advantage of any rise in price to sell his stock rather than to buy new shares.

All the talk about an imminent recession, fashionable in some circles last summer, didn't make the public anxious to jump back in the market. And all the emphasis since then on the slowness of the growth in the economy has added to the uncertainty.

Business, however, has continued good. Corporate profits climbed notably in the final months of 1962. Early reports on the first quarter of 1963, just ended, indicate the advance has continued.

Dividends have reached a record. A further advance is expected.

So why is the market acting funny? The public calls it confusing because prices don't take a strong course—preferably upward.

And why is the public holding aloof? The professionals think it is because of the general uncertainty; because the public's supposed habit of missing the turn in the market, because of nagging doubts about rigging and sharp shooting.

Some think the SEC report will clear the air. After the market shakes down to the new rules and suggestions, confidence may be restored.

Bobcats Hang Up Record at Nashville Meet

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sportswriter

Wednesday, the Hope tracksters went to Nashville for a dual meet-one which the Scrappers soon regretted ever arranging. The final score was Hope 78, Nashville 35.

A new mile relay record was set for Hope by Horton, Sullivan, Porterfield, and Wray at 3:55.7. Another outstanding point was when Russell, Barber and Parris took first, second, and third in the 880 as did Aldridge, Samuels, and Burnett in the 220. Jones was first in the discus. Thrash was first in the high jump. Horton won the 440; Porterfield won the 100 yard dash; and Horton, Porterfield, Aldridge, and Wray took first in the 440 relay.

Arkansas Splits With Emporia

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP)—Arkansas, downed 18-2 by Emporia State in the opener of a baseball double header, snapped to life in the night cap and retrieved a split for the two games, winning the second 12-3.

Jim Bane hit the lone Arkansas home run. Don Wrench, Johnny Walker and Les Nakoma homered for Emporia, all in the first game.

Arkansas pounced on Ranier Martens in the fourth inning of the second game and got three singles, two doubles and a triple

Field of 9 in Arkansas Derby Sat.

HOOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—It looks like a field of nine horses shaping up for the mile and a fur-long added $25,000 Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park Saturday—but changes in the prospective lineup of prospective starters appears in the making.

Two thoroughbreds who had been considered as probable starters now are likely to go post-ward, while several considered regarded earlier in the week as definite starters may be out of the running.

River Divide Farm's Cosmic Tip is one of the former two. He whipped eight other nominees in the Derby prep last Saturday. The other is Louis B. Rogers Blaze Starr, a highly-regarded, Louisiana bred colt who fared badly in the Oaklawn Handicap, but against a field of older horses.

Others expected to go post-ward are Lemon Twist, Devil It Is, Snow Port and Screen Tip.

All Fools Day, Q-Berry and Royal Meadow, all defeated in the trial event, are now considered as doubtful starters.

The John E. Crain Estate's Strolling Bim and John D. Askew's Fennec Son are newcomers to the prospective field.

Names of the starters will be dropped into the entry box Friday morning.

Lemon Twist worked six furlongs for five runs.

Koufax Fails Again, Dodgers Lose to Sox

Associated Press Sports Writer

An apparent communications breakdown between Sandy Koufax, delicate finger and his arm continued Wednesday as the fireballing Los Angeles left-hander came up with his third consecutive lackluster performance in a 3-2 exhibition loss to Boston at Scottsdale.

The 27-year-old southpaw strike-out artist has pronounced the numb finger that sidelined him from July to September last season completely healed, but the arm that made the Dodger dandy the talk of the baseball world doesn't appear to have received the message.

Although the finger has caused no trouble, Koufax has not been sharp in his last three outings, giving up 11 runs in 18 innings. The Red Sox touched him for all their runs on six hits, including a double and triple by Roman Mejias.

Koufax also walked three batters while striking out only three, far below his usual one-an-inning clip.

Jim Maloney and Jim Brosnan each allowed only one hit in Cincinnati's 5-0 shut out of the New York Mets at Tampa and Denny Lemaster and Tony Cloninger combined for a five-hit shut out at West Palm Beach.

In other games, San Francisco defeated Cleveland 4-3 at Fresno, Detroit nipped Minnesota 5-4 at Lakeland, Kansas City belted the Chicago White Sox 10-5 at Sarasota, Pittsburgh took the New York Yankees 6-4 at Fort Myers, St. Louis whipped Washington 6-4 at St. Petersburg and Houston downed the Los Angeles Angels 5-2 at Porterville, Calif.

Vada Pinson stroked two hits for Cincinnati, one a run-producing double. Larry Burright and Ed Kranepool got the Mets' hits.

LeMaster held the Orioles to three hits in seven innings before Cloninger finished up. The Braves clinched it gave two runs off Milt Pappas in the fifth inning.

The Giants won in the ninth when Indians' outfielder Walter Bond dropped a line drive by Willie Mays and enabled Harvey Kuenn to score. Bubba Phillips stroked three hits and Jake Wood drove in the decisive run with a fifth inning single as the Tigers held off the Twins.

The A's pounced on White Sox pitcher Juan Pizarro, Herb Score and Mike Joyce for 15 hits.

Roberto Clemente slammed two triples, Julio Gotay collected three singles and Bob Skinner two singles and a double in the Pirates' triumph over the Yankees.

Triples by Julian Javier, Gene Oliver and Ken Boyer powered the Cardinals while solid relief pitching by Harry Fanok and Bobby Shantz stifled the Senators.

Pete Runnels, last year's American League batting champion, and rookie Leslie Staub each homered in the sixth inning as the Colts beat the Angels.

Kansas Team Ouachita Beats

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Ouachita Baptist College defeated Kansas Wednesday in 1:18 and Strolling Bim worked a half-mile in 48 1-5 seconds.

The April 6 Derby closes out the current Oaklawn meet.

Lookouts Held to 3 by Smith

DADE CITY, Fla. (AP)—Bob (Riverboat) Smith held the Chattanooga Lookouts to three hits and one run during his 6-inning tenure on the mound for the Arkansas Travelers in a game at spring training camp here Wednesday. The Travelers won 6-3.

"He looked pretty good," Manager Frank Lucchesi commented. "He's a head pitcher, takes his time, moves the ball around. I need to see a little more of him to make a real evaluation, but I liked what I saw today."

The Travelers are at Sarasota, Fla. today for a return match with Indianapolis. Indianapolis downed the Arkansas team 4-1 here last week.

Finsterwald Forgotten at Augusta

By MERCER BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The 27th Masters Golf Tournament starts today and veteran Dow Finsterwald finds himself in the role of the forgotten man.

Most of the pre-tournament speculation has centered on golf-don's ruling triumvirate—Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus. Finsterwald and the other 80 competitors have been lumped together as "the field."

There is a tendency to forget that last year's Masters involved a 3-way playoff. And one of the three men all square at 280 after 72 holes was Dow Finsterwald, an Ohioan who registers out of Tequesta, Fla.

Finsterwald played poorly in the 18-hole tie-breaker, taking a 77 to Palmer's winning 68 and Player's 71. But the fact remains that for 72 holes he matched Palmer and Player stroke for stroke—and finished 11 shots ahead of Nicklaus.

Finsterwald isn't concerned about his "forgotten man" role, nor is he predicting he'll whip the "big three" and the rest of the best the game has to offer. But he insists there is always a chance.

"This is a tournament where you either do or you don't," he said.

He said the Augusta National golf course, with its demanding par of 36-36-72, is playing about the same as last year.

Both Nicklaus and Palmer, who had been having trouble scoring well earlier this week, closed out practice with subpar cards for nine holes. Nicklaus, who beat Palmer in a playoff for the National Open title last year, had a 4-under-par 32, Palmer a 35.

Palmer is seeking his fourth Masters title, something no other golfer has achieved.

The 85-man field will be trimmed after the first 36 holes. The top 44 players, plus ties, or anyone within 10 shots of the mid-point leader, will qualify for the final two rounds.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Ouachita pole vaulter Ed Creasey vaulted 13 feet 8½ inches here Wednesday, topping the 1937 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference mark by eight inches.

Ouachita garnered 71 points in the triangular meet to top Arkansas Tech, 68, and College of the Ozarks, 24.

Official AIC records can be set only at the conference meet.

Quotes Need Translator in Baseball

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—You can't tell the baseball spring training quotes without a translator.

Here are some of the standard quotes that happen every spring, along with an explanation of what they really mean.

"All I want is a chance to play every day."

"All those other teams I played for had some real good ball players, but this club is so bad even I can get a job. I hope."

"I'm throwing nice and loose again, and my shoulder (elbow, wrist, finger) doesn't bother me a bit."

"I can't throw hard enough to break a window, but I might fool enough batters to hang around for another year. I can't make a living doing anything else."

"I don't worry about my average, as long as the team wins."

"I switched from batting right to left-handed, changed from a 36 to a 28-ounce bat and am standing two feet deeper in the batter's box. I'll be OK until they

Broyles Looks Over Field of 85 Porkers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

University of Arkansas football Coach Frank Broyles looks over a field of 85 Razorback candidates today—and he hopes it will be filled with two-way players.

The group takes to the practice field at 3:30 p.m. today for the first spring session. Broyles has 28 returning lettermen.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's new rules on use of the platoon system will create some changes in the Porkers this year, Broyles said. But he hasn't made up his mind to scrap the platoon system.

"I'm still not clear on the rules," Broyles said, "but a lot of people are going to have to learn to play both ways."

Early sessions will be devoted to rough work and conditioning. Broyles has more returning lettermen than at any other time at Arkansas.

"The trouble is," he said, "most of them were one-way football players. They're going to have to prove they can go both ways."

The non-lettermen will compete for replacement posts for such Porker standouts last year as quarterback Billy Moore, fullback Danny Brabham, halfback Jessie Branch and monster man Billy Joe Moody.

Hawks Have Backs to the Wall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Hawks, down 2-0 in their best-of-7 Western Division final playoff, would like nothing better than to believe in the home court myth.

That's the theory that says the National Basketball Association team playing on its home court has a big, big advantage. But it just doesn't work that way.

The Hawks, after losing two straight to the Lakers at Los Angeles, open a two-game set at St. Louis tonight and are hoping that the home court theory holds.

In their last 13 home playoff games, however, the Hawks are just over the .500 mark, 7-6. And in the Eastern Division final, where Boston and Cincinnati are tied 2-2 in a best of seven, the home team hasn't won yet.

The Boston Celtics kept that mark intact Wednesday night, whipping the Royals 128-110 in Cincinnati and squaring the match

Henderson Loses to Ouachita

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—

Ouachita College downed Henderson College 5-4 in baseball here Wednesday with an eleventh inning bunt by Wayne Davenport that squeezed in a run from third base.

Larry Reiman was winning pitcher and Carroll Harrison the loser.

Des Arc P.O.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Post Office Department said Wednesday F. E. Slaughter of Junction City is apparently low on construction of a post office at Des Arc. The bid amount was not given.

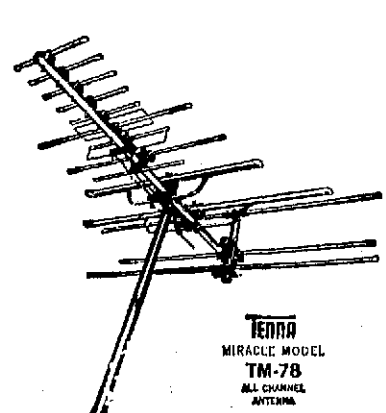

at 2-2. The series resumes in Boston Saturday.

The Celtics ran in 10 straight in the closing moments of the first period, established a 34-25 lead and were never headed again. Their margin was 70-55 at the half.

Bill Russell scored 26 points for Boston and grabbed 25 rebounds, while Bob Cousy and Sam Jones each had 20 points. Oscar Robertson led the losers with 25 points.

National Magazine Tells Story of Goodlett Steam-Powered Gin Located at Ozan

Is This the Last COMPLETELY Steam-Powered Gin?

THE GOODLETT GIN near Ozan, Ark., is probably the last of its kind. It is a completely steam-powered gin, and it is the only one of its kind left in the world. The gin was built in 1900 by John Goodlett, and it has been in operation ever since. It is a remarkable piece of machinery, and it is a testament to the ingenuity of the men who built it. The gin is located on the banks of the Mississippi River, and it is one of the most important landmarks in the area. It is a place where history is made, and it is a place that is worth visiting. The gin is a symbol of the cotton industry, and it is a reminder of the hard work and dedication of the men who built it. It is a place that is full of life, and it is a place that is full of hope. The gin is a place where the past meets the present, and it is a place where the future is being built. It is a place that is full of promise, and it is a place that is full of potential. The gin is a place that is worth visiting, and it is a place that is worth remembering. It is a place that is full of life, and it is a place that is full of hope. The gin is a place where the past meets the present, and it is a place where the future is being built. It is a place that is full of promise, and it is a place that is full of potential.

Hoffa Story Apparently Mis-named

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer.
NEW YORK (AP) — David Brinkley's hour-long special program on NBC Monday night was misleadingly called "Inside Jimmy Hoffa." It should have been called "Inside the Teamsters Union."

Rainy Day Hobbies

Rainy spring weekends can make youngsters moody and restless. It's too wet to play outside, and even kids get tired of sitting in front of a television set all day. A model boat or airplane will keep a boy busy for hours even on the dullest weekend. Easy-to-assemble kits enable youngsters to put together detailed models of the latest sea-going vessels and faster-than-sound aircraft. Models of rockets and missiles are available for space-minded youth. Girls love color and design—so why not get the young lady of the house occupied with a kit which enables her to put together a mosaic coffee table top? Or she may enjoy painting landscape scenes on a numbered base. It's easy to produce handsome paintings this way even without a "talent for art."

SEVERAL WEEKS AGO HOPE STAR ANNOUNCED IT had released for magazine publication its photographs of the Goodlett steam-powered cotton gin at Goodlett, in northern Hempstead county.

THE PICTURE RELEASE WENT TO THE MAGAZINE Author, D. W. Chandler, Arkansas Extension Cotton Ginning and Marketing Specialist who lives at North Little Rock. Mr. Chandler researched both the cotton gin and the history of the Goodlett family thoroughly and he has produced a magazine article of keen interest to Arkansas and the cotton trade.

age individual is a matter of survival," he said.
"Ethics is a matter of individualism. What may be ethical to you, may be non-ethical to someone else. Live and let live, and those who try to destroy you—make it your business to see that they don't and that they have problems."
There's a heap of delicious, vicious suffering in store for the daytime viewers, if the premiere shows of three new soap operas are accurate indications of events to come.
Two of them—ABC's "General Hospital" and NBC's "The Doctor"—are true kin of their older, longer, nighttime cousins, "Ben Casey" and "Dr. Kildare."
"General Hospital" launched three plots in 26 minutes Monday—all rather familiar but all with great potential. There is the once-pretty teen-ager in the hospital after an automobile accident with her face swathed in bandages and raising hell because she thinks she'll be scarred for life. There's a dark, dedicated physician engaged to a pretty girl who flounces off because he breaks still another date. And there's a restless young intern married to an overworked floor nurse but already casting interested glances at a shapely flirt.
They have to work faster on "The Doctors" because every episode is a whole story. In just a few minutes Monday, dark and dedicated physician Scott presided over two operations. He lost a patient in the first, but he saved the infant in the second. In that short time we learned about strangulated hernia, aneurism of the circle of Willis and a tracheo-bronchofistula.

Racial Rally
GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Wiley Branton, an Atlanta attorney formerly of Pine Bluff, Ark., told a Negro rally here Saturday night that the greatest thing President Kennedy could do would be to come here and personally participate in a Negro voter registration drive. Branton, who is leading the campaign, told a crowd of 400 persons that, if Kennedy would accompany Negroes to the LeFlore County Courthouse in their bid to become registered voters, the president would "let the world know we believe in democracy."

Should Court Opinions Be Limited?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Should a Supreme Court justice limit himself in expressing opinions—to the decisions which he and the other eight justices hand down?
It may be argued that justices should not publicly discuss public issues in order that, by so refraining, they will provide an image of impartiality, a sort of Olympian aloofness, and thereby remain free of criticism.
For much of American history but not all of it, justices have stayed away from direct participation in politics. There's a realistic reason for this. They'd be the center of a political uproar for years afterward and might become targets for political retaliation.
But this self-enforced aloofness from political activity does not mean they don't think politically. And it's a fallacy to suggest that a justice might be able to preserve an appearance of impartiality if he didn't discuss publicly issues which may or may not come before the court.

Every time the court hands down a decision the justices, by being for or against it, are publicly expressing an opinion on it, and sometimes at great length.
The court opinions may be limited to a question of saving or not saving a condemned man from electrocution. Or they may have enormous political and social consequences like these three of recent years:
Outlawing racial segregation in public schools; stepping in to force state legislatures to give city-dwellers fairer representation by reapportioning themselves; or banning a city-imposed prayer in public schools.
In all three of these decisions the court was criticized. The fact they expressed the opinions from the bench didn't save them. It was because they expressed their views as a court that they were attacked.
From the very beginning of the country the justices were attacked for their official opinions. Who did the denouncing at any given time depended on whose ox was gored.
The very survival of the court has depended perhaps on the fact that their most unpopular decisions came at different times, which meant they were criticized by different groups at different times instead of by all of them at once.
It's because of their decisions and what they say in them—explaining their reasons for reaching a conclusion—that the justices can be bracketed as liberals or conservatives.
Once so bracketed, they have enemies and supporters. And just because of this year's decisions the present court can be said confidently now to possess a definite 5-4 liberal majority.
Therefore, continuing liberal decisions can be expected.

Interruptions Delay This Super Writer

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The sad news for the literary world today is that there has been another delay in the creation of the great American novel.

The fact is—I've been interrupted again.

Some 50 years or so ago this nation came up against two dire lacks.

"What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar," said an all-but-forgotten U.S. vice president.

"What America needs is a great American novel to give it world cultural status," said many intellectuals of that distant time.

Well, any young fellow in his right mind knew it was an economic impossibility ever to make a good five-cent cigar.

So the eager beavers of half a century ago assailed the next possibility—the writing of the great American novel.

Actually I didn't set out to achieve this goal until about 40 years ago, but I have been hot on the trail ever since.

My difficulty has been finding a place to write. I feel that to write the great American novel you need a room of your own.

Early in my married life I confessed to my wife that my great aim in life was to write the great American novel, and she went right out and bought me a $5 dictionary to help the work along.

Every half-hour or so for years after that she would inquire solicitously, "How about that great American novel? When are you going to finish it?"

"Finish it, woman!" I always replied. "How can I ever begin it until I get a room of my own?"

Well, about 10 years ago we finally moved into an apartment large enough for me to have a room of my own. Then our daughter arrived.

The other day, after a decade of pacing back and forth and sharpening my pencils I sat down at my typewriter to write the opening sentence. My daughter opened the door of my sanctum sanctorum and said:

"Daddy, I'm a big girl now, and I have to have a room of my own."

I sighed, closed my typewriter, and moved out.

But, looking ahead, I estimate my daughter will be grown up and married in another dozen years, and then I can move back again into that room of my own again.

After that, I figure the creation of the great American novel will be simply a matter of time.

There's no real problem to anything—once you firmly make up your mind to do it. In this world there is no substitute for victory.

Killed by Train

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LUXOR, Ark. (AP)—A 15-year-old boy who had walked out on a railroad trestle to throw rocks in the water below was struck and killed Tuesday by a southbound Frisco passenger train near here.

The engineer said Cleveland Leon Melvin, an eighth grade student at Burdette, Ark., was knocked 30 feet from the point of impact into a foot of water. The youth saw the train and made an attempt to run, but was hit, the engineer said. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Melvin of Blytheville.

Writer Says Just What She Thinks

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Network television usually would rather be safe than sorry, particularly when it comes to editorializing.

Usually, when a controversial issue is involved, the approach becomes documentary, the various viewpoints in careful balance.

But that is not the tack of out spoken Aline Saarinen, well-known critic and writer on art and design, who is a bi-weekly guest of NBC's "Today Show." Mrs. Saarinen, a woman of strong opinion in the areas of her specialty, enjoys shaking up her audience by attacking, questioning things that are popularly accepted.

In a recent television appearance, she nominated the huge granite sculptures carved in Mt. Rushmore as one of the six ugliest objects in America—and drew considerable fiery mail.

She is the enemy of awe-inspiring square skyscrapers that contribute, she believes, to the growing ugliness of great cities. She deplores the uniformity of typical development houses that spring up like mushrooms on cleared and treeless tracts.

She even dared scold the New York public for flocking to see the visiting "Mona Lisa"—while 10 blocks away hangs, unsung and largely unnoticed, what she calls one of the greatest pictures ever painted: Rembrandt's self-portrait.

Mrs. Saarinen, as slim 42 and bubbling with enthusiasm, is like a peppermint after a rich meal. You may not agree, but she makes you think. She'll be turning up on "Today" again Friday—infuriating some complacent souls, upsetting others but stimulating to everyone.

"We're on a culture kick, but I do think American taste is improving," says Mrs. Saarinen. "We still have a long way to go in product design. It is perfectly possible for lines to be clean and direct and simple. But the public has to demand it. I hope I can help: that's what I'm on television for."

Burton and Wife to Separate

NEW YORK (AP)—British actor Richard Burton—who has been playing Marc Antony to Elizabeth Taylor's Cleopatra on and off the screen—and his blonde wife, Sybil, have agreed to a legal separation.

The Burtons separation agreement was announced here Tuesday night by the couple's attorney, Aaron Froesch, who said: "Divorce has not been considered or discussed. All financial and other arrangements have been concluded."

Froesch of New York, accompanied Mrs. Burton when she flew in from London Tuesday with her two children, Katherine and Jessica. The trip ostensibly was for an Easter vacation with her father-in-law, Phillip Burton.

Burton, 37, stayed behind with Miss Taylor, 31.

The Welsh-born actor and the classic screen beauty have been in the headlines since they began

Has Simple Philosophy on Fgn. Aid

of his simple philosophy on foreign aid.

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., said today he finally feels vindicated in his long battle against foreign aid—"but vindicated in words, not in action." So he still will wield his ax when President Kennedy's $4.5 billion foreign aid bill comes his way.

For nine years, the ax of this dapper, jocular 62-year-old businessman from Monroe, La., has been a major obstacle for any foreign aid bill trying to wend its way through Capitol Hill. No bill has emerged unscathed.

Passman derives his power from his position as chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee on foreign operations. He derives his distaste for foreign aid from a simple philosophy.

"Head to a bar tonight and watch some people drinking cocktails," he said in an interview.

"Then watch the drama that unfolds each time the waiter brings the check. Everyone grabs for it. He is a nation of check grabbers."

"Everyone is," he continued. "I am, too, although my arm gets shorter as I grow older. We think we accomplish something if we grab the check. That's what we do as a nation—grab checks all over the world. We think we are going good. And we're wrong."

Passman's new sense of vindication comes from the spurt of criticism that has buffeted foreign aid in recent weeks—the gloomy report on aid to Southeast Asia by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and three other senators, the critical analysis of foreign aid by the special committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the incorporation of some Clay Committee criticisms into President Kennedy's foreign aid message to Congress Tuesday.

But, to Passman despite the feeling of vindication, these ## criticisms are words, words, words, while he is interested in cuts, cuts, cuts.

Passman believes his nine-year battle against foreign aid has been misrepresented by the press, radio, television and the State Department.

"They have accused me of trying to wipe out the whole program," he said. "That's not true. I have been trying to contain it. I have been trying to help the executive department manage a program that is uncontrolled and uncontrollable."

But, in the next breath, Passman acknowledges that he actually is against the whole idea of foreign aid. While he sees his assigned role in Congress as the man who must prune and slice the program, he personally would prefer to have no program at all.

"Let's look at the Alliance for Progress," he said. "We are not accomplishing a thing. Have you ever seen an exiled Latin-American leader who was poor? Even ## if they are in office just six months, they end up rich. There are no income taxes in these countries. There is no land reform. Without this, foreign aid simply fills up coffers that keep on emptying."

"But, even if these countries had reforms and their leaders were not corrupt, I would be against the Alliance for Progress. These countries don't need aid. They need trade and private investment."

Common sense, according to Passman, tells him: (1) Foreign aid won't work; it's wasteful and earns resentment instead of friendship and (2) Foreign aid hurts the American economy; it gives away American wealth and diminishes the U.S. supply of gold.

New and Easy

Money-Saving Main Dish

Here's an oven supper that is easy on the cook and is sure to become a family favorite. Individual meat loaves are shaped and placed in the baking dish first. Then thinly sliced onions and potatoes are packed in all around, tomato juice poured over and the dish is ready for the oven. In the last moments of baking, canned peas are added to complete this flavorful and attractive meal-in-one.

The tender, juicy meat loaves owe their goodness to evaporated milk. This double-rich milk blends and binds the meat mixture for easy shaping, then keeps the meat moist throughout the baking. This improved quality holds true for a large meat loaf or tiny meat balls.

1 small onion, chopped	3 medium onions, sliced thin
Salt and pepper	1 can (No. 2) tomato juice
1 cup soft bread crumbs (about 1 1/2 slices bread)	1 can (8 oz.) peas
1/4 cup evaporated milk

Mix together thoroughly the beef, chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, bread crumbs and evaporated milk. Divide meat mixture into six equal portions; shape each into a small loaf. Place loaves in baking dish (13 x 9 x 2 inches). Arrange sliced potatoes on both sides of beef loaves, and then top potatoes with sliced onions. Pour tomato juice over potatoes and then top onions with 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Bake in preheated hot oven (450° F.) 20 minutes, then reduce heat to 350° F. and bake 25 minutes longer. Pour peas with their liquid over top. Bake 10 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

New Method Could Avoid Strikes

By NORMAN WALKER
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (P)—The new method of avoiding strikes is disarmingly simple: Get an early start exploring how labor dispute can be peacefully solved.

The system, which has worked briefly but well so far in the steel industry and which apparently is about to be adopted in the auto industry, depends of course on an affirmative intent to reach agreement mindful of the problems on each side.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz cites recent examples of efforts to settle labor troubles calmly ahead of the pressures of strike deadlines.

The idea is for labor and management to set aside a period ahead of formal bargaining to study with care and deliberation the problems of each side, those of management as well as labor. It is felt that greater understanding will help avoid breakdowns later on.

In steel, a joint industry-union group known as the human relations committee was established after the record 116-day strike in 1959. Its exploratory work helped achieve a peaceful contract settlement in 1961 and the committee is again at work ahead of scheduled wage negotiations this summer.

In the auto industry, union chief Walter Reuther's recent proposal that each major producer establish a similar joint study group with the Auto Workers Union has been accepted by General Motors, Ford and American Motors. The study groups would get started this summer, a year ahead of 1964 contract negotiations.

Labor Secretary Wirtz cited these examples in a address Monday at Baton Rouge, La., to

President Receives Branding Iron

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy presented a 17-year-old Texas boy with a "juvenile delinquency" award today and received in return a "JFK" branding iron.

Kennedy handed a gold plaque to Ignacio (Lefty) Chavez of El Paso. This "Boy of the Year" award was presented on behalf of the Boys' Clubs of America for "superlative service to his home, school, church, community and boys' club."

Young Chavez, of Spanish and Mexican descent, is an honor student in high school, brawly baseball player, student leader and a participant in more than 50 community activities.

He also works at odd jobs to supplement the family income. His blind father is a broom seller. Kennedy, in offering warmest congratulations, said Chavez, "In a whole variety of ways typifies our hopes for the future of the country."

As one of his community activities young Chavez is a volunteer guide at the Light House for the Blind where the brooms his father sells are made.

When he was younger, he used to guide his father through the streets as he sold his wares.

He pitched in to help the family purse by working as a vendor at sports events and during the summer the annual convention of the Louisiana AFL-CIO federation as promising steps toward a more sensible approach to bargaining.

Wirtz went on to say that it no longer makes sense to put off until the last 30 or 60 days before a labor contract expires discussion of the wide variety of complicated problems now facing labor and management, especially manpower needs in the face of technological change.

Sees Nothing Wrong With Exile Raids

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following exclusive interview with Jerry Buchanan was obtained by his brother, James Buchanan, reporter for the Pompano Beach Sun-Sentinel, and made available to The Associated Press.

By JAMES BUCHANAN
POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The American who acted as spokesman for a band of anti-Castro sea raiders in securing their release from British custody told me he did not feel he had broken any neutrality law.

Jerry Buchanan, 24, said in an exclusive interview by telephone from Nassau Monday night that the raiders' boats, Violin III, had not been armed or manned in this country.

The 35-foot Violin III was captured at Norman's Cay, a tiny island in the Bahamas. Buchanan said Magistrate John Bailly freed the band of 17 men and released their boat with a decree that they had not violated any law in British territory.

The boat put into the island to refuel, Buchanan said, and he and one of the Cubans aboard under command of Maj. Evelio Duque went ashore unarmed.

"We approached a barracks-type building where we encountered a detachment of Bahamian police," Buchanan said. "They had been there since Saturday morning waiting for us to come in. They knew all about us."

"The police came out of the building and said, 'Is your name Buchanan?' They placed both of us under detention."

He reported, a platoon of Bahamian police led by a British officer went to the boat, where they ordered the others to come ashore. Buchanan said the Violin III was not captured at sea as reported and that the British frigate credited with the capture steamed into the area Sunday afternoon.

"The police searched the boat and captured a few of the boys who were well hidden from view of anyone on shore," he added. "They also found the arms which we had stored on the boat."

"Police told us they had us under surveillance all Sunday morning while we were trying to dock. After finding the arms they immediately announced we were being detained. The police refused to use the term 'arrest.' They said we were merely 'detained.'"

Buchanan said a high official of the Bahamas government, whom he declined to identify, arrived and said he was acting as a delegate from London, representing the Admiralty.

"Prior to the official's arrival, however, the frigate was spotted off the east coast of the key," Buchanan said.

"The navy came ashore in three landing launches. One of these carried a platoon of men completely equipped with machine-guns and ready to fight. The police then turned us over to the navy."

"I was flown to Nassau at 7 p.m. Sunday. I went to court Monday afternoon and we're now out of napolis."

"I'll take whichever one comes first," says Lefty, who has been nominated as an alternate appointee to the Naval Academy by Rep. Ed Foreman, R-Tex.

Monday Trial for 6 Sit-Ins

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Six Negroes are to be tried in Municipal Court here today on charges that grew out of a sit-in demonstration here last week.

They are charged with loitering and refusing to leave private premises when requested to do so. The Negroes demonstrated March 25 at the Hotel Pines. They said they had made reservations by telephone but were denied rooms when they showed up in person.

Charged are Mildred Neal, Shirley Baker, James Jones, Ruthie Buffington, all 19, and Spurge Hicks, 17, and Leon Nash, 22. All pleaded innocent.

Another trial is scheduled for on bond. We're supposed to be put back aboard the boat and escorted out of British waters with our equipment, guns and any of our personal effects."

State Funds for Water Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Public Works subcommittee has approved Army Engineer recommendations for increases in spending authorizations for 10 river basins, including two in Arkansas. The increases total $684 million. They include: Arkansas River, $157 million; White River, Arkansas and Missouri, $8 million and Missouri River, $80 million.

If approved by the full committee, the proposed increases will be written into a water projects authorization bill later this year.

Thursday for 43 other Negroes charged with creating a disturbance in a public place in connection with a stand-in demonstration at the Saenger Theater here.

They were refused seats in the white section.

All of the demonstrators were freed on bond.

Damaged Mill Is Repaired

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — About 350 construction workers have completed rebuilding of fire-damaged areas at the International Paper Co. mill in Pine Bluff, Mill Manager Howard Hinman said today.

The fire which caused more than $1 million damage began Jan. 12 and burned for several days. It so severely damaged the second floor of a warehouse and its supporting structure that rebuilding was necessary.

A new extruder machine which coats paper with plastic was being installed at the time of the fire and now is in operation.

Cause of the fire still has not been determined. Hinman said a monetary figure on the cost of the reconstruction project was not available.

A DEAD ENDING

THE STORY: Two strangers have raided the apartment of Frances Terrill and her daughter Dawn. Frances is unable to tell Cornelius Ryan, a young lawyer, whether they took anything of value. Frances' friend Mathew Higby has left to question apartment building employees and Ryan has called the police.

IV

One of the bedrooms was real fancy—a canopied four-poster, a dainty dressing table with a theatrically lit mirror. You had to imagine how it should have looked. Bureau drawers had been unceremoniously dumped on the floor. On the bureau top was a jewel case. It had been turned upside down, its contents spilled out. I'm no connoisseur but I guessed there was $100,000 worth of jewelry lying there like spilled marbles. It hadn't been a simple robbery. They'd been looking for something else.

"See anything missing?" I asked Frances Terrill. She was leaning against the door, sipping her drink. She was going to be higher than a kite by the time the cops got there.

"I'd have to check through that stuff on the bureau, but it looks to be all there."

"The room across the hall?"

"Dawn's. She has nothing to take except her clothes. My daughter is a puritanical little piece, Mr. Ryan. She won't accept gifts from strange men."

"Meaning Matt?"

"Meaning Matt," she said.

"So this holocaust is meaningless," I said.

She hesitated for a moment, frowning. "How well do you know Matt?" she asked.

"I met him for the first time about 5 o'clock this afternoon," I said.

"He give you his life history?"

"A sketch of it."

"Tell you about me?"

I shook my head. "I was to meet you first," I said. "I think you were supposed to be the reason he wants to own race horses."

"Poor Matt," she said, unexpectedly. "You're a big, grown-up boy, Mr. Ryan. You must have guessed that Mathew Higby and I have some sort of special relationship. We do—so very special. He pays the rent on this place. That is, he 'lends' me the money to pay the rent. He 'lends' me the money to buy my clothes—and Dawn's. He bought me that little jewelry store on the bureau. But let me ask you something, Ryan. Did you find any traces of Mathew Higby here?"

"I didn't find any. I—I wanted to be ready for the cops."

"Commendable. Well, you didn't find any traces of Mathew. Ryan, because there aren't any. Dawn and I have been dependent on him for three years. Well, you won't believe this but I'll tell you anyway. During those three years Mathew Higby has never touched me."

"Has he asked you to marry him?"

"Every day for nearly three years."

"Why don't you?"

She tossed up the glass again, but this time she deliberately let it fall to the floor and smash to bits. "Mathew is too nice a guy to hurt," she said.

The doorbell rang. It was the cops. I wondered what was keeping Higby.

There were two detectives and a couple of prowl-car cops. Even these tough cookies were a little bug-eyed as they began to dig it out.

"It's hard to understand how all this could go on," he said to Frances Terrill, gesturing around the living room, "and neither you nor your daughter can give a clear description of the men."

"If you'd been here you'd understand, Mr. Ryan."

"Ballard. Sergeant Ballard, ma'am."

Frances shrugged. "The doorbell rang. I was expecting a friend."

"Mr. Ryan, here?"

"Not exactly. I was expecting Mathew Higby who did eventually come, bringing Mr. Ryan with him."

"So you went to the door," he said.

"I went to the door, opened it, and these two wild men charged in. They didn't ask me anything or say anything to me. You take the back rooms," one of them said, and the other one ran off down the hall. Dawn was in her room reading. I yelled at her there was some kind of trouble.

The first man started tearing this room apart. I yelled at him, and then I took a slug at him with a bottle. He punched me in the mouth. When I managed to struggle to my feet he had this room torn to bits. I went at him again. This time I managed to claw some pretty good deep scratches in his face. He hit me backhand, and in the eye and I went down again."

"It took courage to fight him, Mrs. Terrill," Ballard said.

"It didn't take anything," she said. "It was just instinctive. Before I could get up the second time the other man came out of the back rooms. I could hear Dawn screaming. He just beckoned to the one who was clobbering me and they both ran out."

French Planes to Receive Nuclear Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States this week will arm with nuclear weapons two units of French fighter-bombers based in West Germany but the weapons will remain under American control, Defense Department sources have disclosed.

Officials said Tuesday night that the arrangement was worked out in negotiations begun five years ago between France and the United States and completed about a year ago.

The delay, they said, was caused by the time needed to acquire "lock and key" devices by which the United States retains control of the warheads.

The American control is retained through the so-called "permissive link" system. Thus even though a foreign national may be flying a plane equipped with a U.S. nuclear weapon he is unable to fire it without an electronic go-ahead from another base. That electronic permission is kept in American hands.

Officials said this is the ninth such bilateral agreement between the United States and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries. The groundwork for the agreements was laid by NATO government heads in the late 1950s.

The agreement, the sources said, does not apply to any French units on French soil.

U.S. sources contended that the delivery of the U.S. nuclear weapons would make no change in the divergent U.S. and French views on nuclear arms policy.

The United States opposes independent national nuclear forces, favoring a multinational NATO force. Figuring large in President Charles de Gaulle's "grand design" for France is her own atomic force. He has turned down President Kennedy's offer of Polaris weapons to be put under NATO control.

From Paris' standpoint, the delivery of the weapons doesn't damage De Gaulle's stand, for the weapons will not be on French soil.

Communist Summit Is in Making

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Cautious maneuvering toward a face-to-face showdown meeting between communism's two giants shifted the ball back to Peking today.

Premier Khrushchev declined an invitation to visit Red China and instead asked Mao Tze-tung to see him in Moscow.

As an alternative Khrushchev suggested that the Chinese Communist leader first send representatives for high-level talks to clear the air over the deep Moscow-Peking rift.

There was no immediate reaction from Peking. A New China News Agency broadcast said only that the Soviet ambassador to Peking had delivered a letter from Khrushchev to Premier Chou En-lai and other Chinese party leaders.

It appeared, however, that it would be difficult for Mao to refuse at least to send a delegation to Moscow. In his invitation to Khrushchev, Mao said that if the Soviet premier could not come to Peking, he could send a delegation or the Chinese would send a delegation to Moscow.

In his reply Khrushchev declined with thanks the Chinese invitation to stop over in Peking en route to Cambodia this spring.

The letter, signed by the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee, said Khrushchev never intended to visit Cambodia. Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev is going instead, it said.

The best time for Mao's visit to Moscow, the letter suggested, would be in the spring or summer of this year, Tass reported.

If Mao cannot make the trip, the letter proposed that the substitute delegation come about May 15.

Truckers Fined for Violations

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Commerce Commission collected $3,373.50 in March from fines against truckers operating within the state without authority to do so.

Faubus Has Vetoed a Few Bills

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus filed the last bills of the 1963 legislature with the secretary of state's office Monday, closing out the business of this year's session.

The measures approved last Friday and filed Monday brought to 559 the number of Acts of 1963. Faubus approved seven and vetoed four of those measures filed Monday.

The governor said he vetoed a bill to increase from 7 to 9 cents the mileage allowance for state employees using their own vehicles on state business because agency budgets were drawn to provide for only seven cents a mile.

He said he vetoed a bill to provide free hunting and fishing licenses to persons 65 years or older and 100 per cent disabled by military service because the state Supreme Court had held that no one over 15 could be excused from paying for hunting and fishing licenses.

A third vetoed bill would have prohibited prosecution of a person in a state court for any offense on which that person has been tried in a federal court or in a court of another state. Faubus said he had been told by prosecutors that such a law would impede enforcement of criminal statutes.

The fourth bill would have eliminated the state sales tax on trans-

Second Degree Murder Plea

BLITHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Bobby Gene Walker, 16, a Negro of Blitheville, has pleaded guilty in Mississippi County Circuit Court to a charge of second-degree murder.

Walker is charged in the fatal stabbing of Edward Lee Ray, 16, another Blitheville Negro. He will be sentenced later.

formers and gas regulators manufactured in Arkansas and sold to public utilities.

Approved were measures to: Create state parks at Hurricane Creek in Columbia County, Lake Pointsett in Polk County, Parnell Springs in Bradley County and Jacksonport in Jackson County.

Set speed limits for trucks at 60 miles per hour on interstate highways and at 50 miles per hour on state roads.

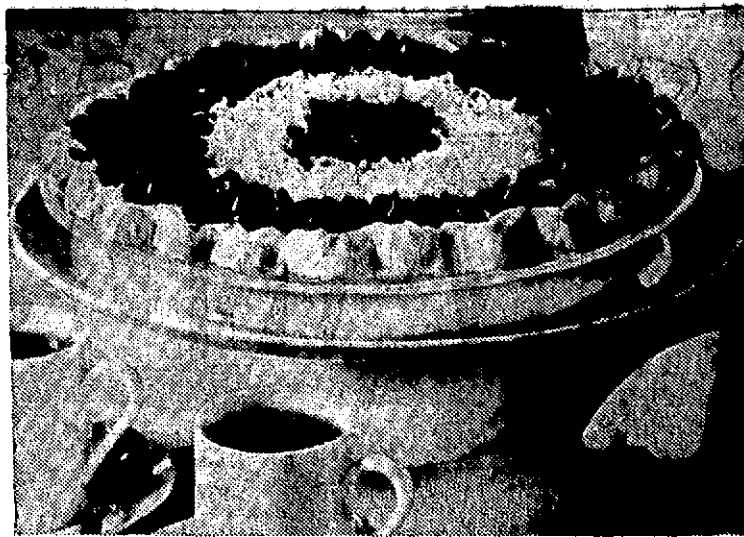

Require banks to move teller windows from any community which organizes its own bank.

Stipulate that agricultural land annexed by a city continue to be assessed as agricultural land as long as it is used for farming.

Provide for a refund of 4.5 cents of the 6.5-cent state tax on fuel used in city buses.

Give the state Health Department authority to require that sandwiches and certain other perishable foods offered for sale to the public be kept under refrigeration.

Permit Fort Smith to annex territory in the Greenwood District of Sebastian County.

WITH the passing of Lent, tastes turn sweet once again. Peanut butter candy pie is a good after-Lent treat.

News Around the World

DENPASAR, Bali (AP) — The smoke cloud pouring from Agung volcano has been increasing, and Bali Information Director Anak Agung says another eruption is feared in the next two or three days.

The cloud and the general situation of the volcano "are very similar to the days before March 17," he said. Agung's eruption on that date killed nearly 1,500 persons and drove more than 70,000 from their homes.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Despite opposition by most civilian politicians, South Korea's military government is going steadily ahead with preparations for a referendum April 25 on its proposal to extend military rule four years.

The Cabinet reported today that voters' lists were completed March 23.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Ali Saleh Saadi, Iraq's deputy premier has come to Damascus to try to smooth over friction between President Abdel Gamal Nasser and Syrian leaders of the Ba'ath Socialist party opposed to a tight Arab union directed by Nasser from Cairo.

VIENNA (AP) — The United States and Romania have concluded a cultural agreement for 1963-64, Radio Bucharest reported today.

The agreement, signed in Bucharest Tuesday, provides for an exchange of teachers, technical experts and sportsmen. The two countries will also exchange radio and television programs,

Race Cases Likely to Be Delayed

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — There were indications today that the trials of 43 Negroes charged in anti-segregation demonstrations would be continued in Municipal Court Thursday, just as trials of six others were continued Tuesday.

City Atty. George Holmes said "competent white and colored citizens are working on this problem and as a consequence we would like the trials to be continued."

The Thursday trial for the 43 Negroes is in connection with stand-in demonstrations in front of the Saenger Theater last week. The six Negroes whose cases were continued Tuesday until April 30 were charged in connection with a sit-in at the Pines Hotel last week.

George Howard, their attorney, asked that charges against them be dismissed and said the state law under which they are charged is unconstitutional because it is used only against Negroes. It requires that persons leave private premises when asked to do so by the management.

Attorneys were told to file briefs in the case.

Ft. Smith Urban Renewal Approved

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A $2.5 million urban renewal project and annexation of 2,400 acres of land to Fort Smith were approved by voters Tuesday.

The urban renewal project was approved by a vote of 4,458 for to 4,159 against.

The annexation issue gained 7,061 votes of approval to 1,313 against.

Hugh Brewer was reelected to his post as city commissioner, without opposition.
